When asked why she serves on the board of directors, AIA Colorado West 2011 President Heidi H. Hoffmann, AIA, explained, "My term as AIA Colorado West President 2011 happens after serving as president 20 years ago in 1991. History has a way of repeating itself, and here again the architectural profession is suffering from conflict in foreign lands and economic uncertainty. I hope to empower those in AIA Colorado West to be the leaders in the renewal of our built environment; a renewal that is based upon practicing sustainable building principles. With AIA membership, we have the advocacy, resources, continuing education and networking to achieve this goal. I look forward to serving AIA Colorado West with our exceptional board, who hail from all our diverse and magnificent regions on Colorado's Western Slope."

About AIA & AIA Colorado West

For more than 150 years, members of The American Institute of Architects (AIA) have worked with each other and their communities to create more valuable, healthy, secure and sustainable buildings and cityscapes. AIA members have access to the right people, knowledge and tools to create better design, and through such resources and access, they help clients and communities make their visions real. AIA Colorado West is one of four chapters within the AIA Colorado component. This chapter is comprised of members from 27 counties in western Colorado and among others includes the cities of Aspen, Breckenridge, Vail, Grand Junction and Steamboat Springs.
